

domkapa

DECOREX, WE ARE BACK!

domkapa.com | info@domkapa.pt

domkapa

Oh, Decorex! The most beautiful time of the year! London truly inspires us every day since the day we met this city for the first time. It inspires us to be better than yesterday, to find all about craftsmanship and understand how we can take advantage of it and how we can help our customers to grow and make the world even more elegant.

Now it is our turn to share some design inspiration within the design community. That's right: London, we are back! This time at Decorex International, between October 9th and 12th.

We are more than excited to present you the perfect meeting between design and comfort, through marvellous, iconic pieces from our most recent collection. With emotion, knowledge, and talent we will keep craft alive.

Come see and be part of a successful journey where every detail matters, where every finish and material is chosen with care, where our passion is reflected in everything we do. What can you expect? A nice, caring team of professionals specialised in helping finishing projects that meet the expectations of their clients.

This is your opportunity to see in first hand the true definition of high-quality while experiencing a tour between timeless upholstered furniture pieces for your everyday residential or commercial projects and for your home.

Our identity is present in each seam of every product, in each detail. Our production team shares a deep passion for detailed stitching and cares to maintain craftsmanship to the last day of our lives. And you will find all about our character in Olympia London's Stand F155.

Get to know our essence, tradition and authenticity.

Meet us at Decorex International.

October 9th - 12th

Stand F155

Domkapa
press@domkapa.pt
+351 937 615 366

