Decorex is one of the European leading events in the design industry and this year's edition was no different. It was a great opportunity to meet new customers and share experiences with inspiring professionals from all around the United Kingdom.

As every year, Domkapa was present to showcase the best of Portuguese craftsmanship. Between Anna Chair and Ruth Armchair, everyone that was passing by couldn't resist the temptation: trying Domkapa's pieces and the feedback was outstanding!

The trendy Chloe Sofa was the star of the stand for its most-wanted fabric that made it look really comfortable and gave the wow-factor to the space. After all, only Chloe could offer sophistication and elegance to the room, right?

Regarding the chair module from Shinto Sofa, everyone loved its stainless-steel details on the back! For design lovers that love modern pieces, Shinto is the perfect solution because it has a modular system for functionality and exclusivity.

Grant Pouf was alone this time. However, it was the most stylish piece from Domkapa's stand. Sharing the same fabric as Chloe, Grant Pouf featured some nice details in natural leather for a touch of richness.

We also showcased Ruth Armchair, which you might like for your classic Christmas: at Decorex, Ruth was the social corner of the stand thanks to the harmonious combination of its refined materials, blending elegance and comfort.

Colbert Bench was the perfect stop for everyone that wanted to test Domkapa’s quality. Combining functionality and style, it is a discreet and elegant bench for your interior design projects.

Speaking of functionality, our visitors had the pleasure to meet Inside Side Tables Low and Tall which supported our catalogue and new product's brochure.

And, of course, let's not forget about Anna Chair which gave us the opportunity of showing one of our biggest advantages: all our pieces are handcrafted so you can customize each detail! We had two Anna Chairs at our Decorex's stand: with and without armrests.

Finally, we also brought Louise Counter Stool. With this piece, we developed a unique workplace with our sample box and catalogue – where you could enjoy a delicious coffee with our sales team and understand more about of how we can work together.

Decorex International was a successful adventure that we invite everyone to remember and to visit in the next year's edition.
